feel like a cushion, what does? THE DR. A. REED CUSHION SHOE. Why? because the sole is constructed in four sections, the outer sole, then a cork section, an inner sole, and next to the feet covered by fine French calf is the fibre cushion. That's where the secret is. Keeps the feet cool and comfortable in the summer.

BIG REDUCTION.

Southern Pacific Announces Reduction in All Fares on Western Division.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—The Southern Pacific today announced an unprecedented reduction in passenger rates on all its Western lines after July 1. Rates will be lowered as a result of the new tariff, to 100 or more stations, from every point on the Pacific system, and several hundred rates will be reduced between San Francisco and other Southern Pacific stations. The reductions in most instances are one cent a mile on the main lines.

Of the representatives present at the recent meeting of the underwriters at Oakland when the 75-cent proposition came up for vote there remains then, seventy-one companies to be accounted for. Of these sixty-one declare in favor of the 75-cent compromise, while ten were not represented at the meeting and so far have not recorded their position in the matter.

One more insurance company yesterday signed the stipulation sent out by the state insurance commissioner granting an additional sixty days time during which policyholders may file their proofs of loss. This company was the Prussian National. Fifty-four insurance concerns have granted the extension of time and many more are expected to follow during the next two days.

Three insurance companies—The Continental, Austin of Texas, and Scottish Union—have filed a description of all their policies with insurance Commissioner Wolf.

THIRTIETH ANNIVERSARY.

Plans Are Made to Celebrate the Exploration of the Hudson River.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Plans for the celebration of the thirtieth anniversary of Henry Hudson's exploration of the river which bears his name and the tenth anniversary of the first successful navigation of that river by steam, by Robert Fulton, took tangible shape yesterday at a meeting of the Hudson-Fulton Celebration Executive Committee, headed by General Stewart L. Woodford, the chairman. It was decided the celebration should take place the week beginning September 29, 1909, and that instead of a temporary "World's Fair," there shall be dedicated monumental works of lasting benefit to the people.

The first day of the celebration, it is arranged shall be given over to a naval parade or aquatic pageant up the Hudson river in which the navies of the world, especially those of the Netherlands and Great Britain shall be invited to participate, as well as all manner of merchant and pleasure craft. It is recommended that a feature of the parade be models of the vessels Half Moon and Clermont, the Netherlands being asked to furnish the model of the former. The deep draught vessels will proceed up the river as far as Haverstraw Bay, the Half Moon and Clermont escorted by smaller craft, continuing as far north as Albany.

The second day will be marked by a land parade and military, historical, and musical exercises. The third day, it is proposed shall be devoted to the dedication of memorials. One of these will be the Hudson memorial bridge extending from Inwood Hill to Spuyten Duyvil Creek, at its confluence with the Hudson river. It is recommended that a public park be acquired in Inwood Hill, at the southern terminus of the bridge and that suitable buildings or monuments be erected there.

FAVOR STATE STOCK WAITRESSES ANGRY

Would Give State Stock Reserve Grazing Privileges.

STATUS OF MINING PAPERS

Effort to Give Mining Publications Free Admittance to Mails and the Right of Appeal in Fraud Order.

ASTORIA NEWS BUREAU, Washington, D. C., June 14.—Taking his cue from the situation developed at the Wenaha forest reserve, in northeastern Oregon, Senator Fulton has set about having such changes made in grazing regulations as will give the stock of the state in which a reserve or part of a reserve is situated, preference over all others. The forest service officials admit that this principle is proper, and give assurance that it has been the steadfast purpose to work to that end in time, but do not indicate how many years it will require to eliminate the outside sheep. The senator, after conference with stock interests of his state, feels that this principle should be established at once, without approaching the result over a prolonged period of elimination. He yet hopes that the general rules will be so modified as to give the preference to the state's interests burdened with the reserve withdrawal.

Geological Survey.

A determined effort is to be made by the Oregon delegation to provide for a careful geological survey, with reference to artesian water, in the great central Oregon region. Senator Fulton took the question up some time ago with the reclamation officials, but found the rules of this bureau forbid use of the fund for any experimental work, where there is not engineering assurance of success. Since he has been working to have the experiment made by the geological survey, from what is known as the general hydrographic fund. Officials of the survey do not want to undertake the boring, as they have not done so elsewhere, but are ready to make a scientific survey whenever funds will permit, by means of which private capital may be safely guided in boring operations. Important artesian discoveries have been made through these surveys, and the effort will now be to have such a survey made of the central southern Oregon region. The only contingency is the appropriation.

Help Mining Publications.

Mining publications of the West which have struggled with the postal department for second-class mail privileges, and butted against the stone wall of a department conclusion which would not be altered, will sympathize with the effort being made to have established the right of appeal from post office department officials to the courts on such questions as the fraud order, classification, etc. For a period the officials of the department held to the ruling that a mining paper publishing the boosting reports usual for the average mining camp, forfeited its right to second-class privileges, unless its mining news embraced more than one district. This ruling was adhered to after the officials were shown that some of the papers covering several districts had more of the "hot air" news than those confining their optimism to a single district. But because there had been a ruling, it had to stand.

Little Complaint Made.

In regard to fraud orders, there has been little complaint, save from victims who had attached to their operations a strong shade of suspicion. Issuance of a fraud order is a great power, but one that seems not to have been abused in such manner as to enlist public interest. It is probable that whatever is finally done in the way of giving court review to complainants coming from the post-office department, will be confined to fraud order cases. The committee on judiciary of the house has made this recommendation. Such action would not be with the purpose of impeaching the post office officials for misuse of their power in any wilful sense, but merely to insure important interests that judicial hearing that has been held sacred in all important civil affairs of the country.

Demand That Employers Shall Quit Swearing.

HOLD INDIGNATION MEETING

Chicago Waitresses Union Demand That Employers Shall Not Swear At Them or Reprimand Them Before Guests.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The members of the waitresses union held an indignation meeting yesterday at which their sentiments were crystallized unanimously in the following maxims for the benefit of the managers:

"Employers shall not use profane language to waitresses."

"Waitresses shall not be reprimanded in the presence of guests."

These two dicta were carefully typewritten and laid on the desk of the manager of every downtown restaurant where girls are employed. Accompanying them was a note to the effect that unless employers saw fit to follow these rules they may be confronted with strikes.

The indignation of the young women is said to have been aroused when a manager in a restaurant discharged a waitress for taking offense at a reprimand. The manager afterward apologized, it is said, but this did not appease the wrath of the young woman belonging to the union.

ELECTION RATIFIED.
